

Cleaner Air Oregon Review: Focus on 4 N/NE Facilities

On 10/26/21, Northeast Coalition of Neighborhoods and North Portland Neighborhood Services will host a public meeting to address the concerns about air toxics and health risk from four North and Northeast Portland Industrial Facilities. These industrial sites are currently in evaluation by the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) through the Cleaner Air Oregon Program. Clustered along the North edge of Portland, along the Columbia River, the sites are located in three neighborhoods: Cully, Kenton, and St. Johns.

Cleaner Air Oregon is a DEQ program that regulates emissions from industrial and commercial facilities based on health risks to surrounding communities. There are four facilities in North and Northeast Portland in various stages of the Cleaner Air Oregon permitting process. DEQ will present information about the Cleaner Air Oregon program, provide details on each facility, and describe how community members can be involved.

DEQ staff will compare the 4 facilities and share reports on new air toxics and health risk data, updated CAO time frames, and identify opportunities to engage in the process.
The Facilities

Owens Brockway: 9710 NE Glass Plant Rd, 97220

Hydro-Extrusions North America: 5325 NE Skyport Way, 97218

Ecolube Recovery: 11535 N Force Avenue, 97217

Columbia Steel Castings Corporation: 10425 N Bloss Ave, 97203

Local Air Quality advocacy groups will also offer opportunities to engage on air quality issues specific to these sites and in the wider metropolitan area as well. NECN and NPNS welcome the public to participate in this Land Use and Transportation meeting as well as future meetings - these meetings address a wide range of issues that impact livability - your input is valued! Live Q & A! All written submitted questions will be addressed during or after the meeting.

All are welcome to attend this public Land Use and Transportation Meeting.
